Behavioural Traits

What is most important in life to you?	To me, the most important things in life are family, kindness, and making a positive impact. I value spending time with my loved ones and helping those in need, whether through volunteering or supporting others in any way I can.
If you had unlimited resources and could save one thing on earth what would it be?	If I had unlimited resources and could save one thing on Earth, it would be the protection and preservation of animals. I would focus on ensuring that endangered species are saved, animal habitats are protected, and that all animals, whether domestic or wild, are treated with compassion and respect. I believe that every animal deserves a safe environment and a chance to thrive.
What are your views on religion and spirituality, and practiced religion?	I am Catholic, and while I don't actively practice my faith as much as I'd like due to the business of life, my faith still holds significant meaning for me. I believe in the teachings of love, compassion, and kindness that come from my faith, and I try to live those values in my day-to-day life.
Childhood religion:	Catholic
Any specific achievements or aspects of recognition in your family:	In my family, we've always supported each other through thick and thin. One of the things I'm most proud of is the close bond we share, and how we all help each other grow. We also place a strong value on education and community service, and I try to live by these values in my own life, whether it's through my work or my volunteer efforts.
Interests and hobbies:	My main hobbies include volunteering at animal shelters, where I can contribute to helping animals in need and make a positive difference in their lives. I also love spending quality time with my family, whether it's enjoying meals together, going on trips, or just relaxing at home. Additionally, I enjoy reading, staying active with outdoor activities, and traveling whenever I can, as it allows me to explore new places and learn about different cultures.

If you were offered an all-inclusive holiday, what would it be?	My ideal all-inclusive holiday would be in Japan. I've always been fascinated by the country's unique blend of traditional culture and cutting-edge technology. I would love to visit places like Tokyo to see the futuristic skyscrapers, advanced transportation systems like the bullet trains, and experience the tech-driven attractions. I'd also enjoy exploring the quieter, more traditional parts of Japan, like Kyoto, to immerse myself in the beautiful temples and gardens. The combination of modern innovation and rich history makes Japan a dream destination for me.
Which interesting places have you visited?	Qatar and locally I have been to Durban.
What are your feelings on animal welfare?	Animal welfare is incredibly important to me. I believe that all animals deserve to be treated with compassion and respect. I actively volunteer at animal shelters because I want to help improve the lives of animals in need, whether it's by providing care, finding them loving homes, or advocating for better treatment and protection.
