Reason for Donating: I want to be an egg donor because I understand that not everyone can conceive naturally. I like to help someone have the opportunity to build a family. Its meaningful to me to be able to contribute in a way that could make a real difference in someones life .Im also motivated by the idea of helping others while going through a process im

	comfortable with and have carefully considered. To my recipient: I would like to say that I truly admire your strength and commitment to becoming a parent. I hope this donation helps you in your journey
Reproduction history:	Has Children: Yes Number of Children: 1 Have you donated eggs before: No
Views on religion and spirituality:	Religion is an organized system of beliefs, rituals, and moral frameworks. Think of traditions like Christianity, Islam, or Hinduism. They provide structure—shared stories, ethical rules, community identity, and often institutions. For many people, that structure is stabilizing and meaningful. It can guide behavior, offer purpose, and create a sense of belonging. Spirituality, on the other hand, is more individual. It's about personal experience—questions like meaning, connection, consciousness, or transcendence. Someone might feel spiritual without belonging to any organized religion, drawing from practices like meditation, reflection, or even nature. Practiced religion is where things get more concrete—and sometimes messy. It's how religion actually shows up in real life: rituals, attendance, leadership structures, cultural norms, and power dynamics. This is where you see both the best and worst outcomes: At its best, it builds strong communities, encourages compassion, and gives

	people resilience in hard times.                  At its worst, it can become rigid, exclusionary, or even harmful if authority is abused or beliefs are enforced without room for questioning.

Behavioural Traits

What is most important in life to you?	My son, my family's happiness is my priority
If you had unlimited resources and could save one thing on earth what would it be?	I'd save the conditions that make everything else possible. If forced to choose one "thing, it would be Earth's living systems as a whole—the interconnected web of ecosystems that keep the planet stable. That includes forests, oceans, soil, climate patterns, and biodiversity working together. Without that balance, saving any single species, culture, or achievement becomes temporary at best.
What are your views on religion and spirituality, and practiced religion?	Religion is an organized system of beliefs, rituals, and moral frameworks. Think of traditions like Christianity, Islam, or Hinduism. They provide structure—shared stories, ethical rules, community identity, and often institutions. For many people, that structure is stabilizing and meaningful. It can guide behavior, offer purpose, and create a sense of belonging. Spirituality, on the other hand, is more individual. It's about personal experience—questions like meaning, connection, consciousness, or transcendence. Someone might feel spiritual without belonging to any organized religion, drawing from practices like meditation, reflection, or even nature. Practiced religion is where things get more concrete—and sometimes messy. It's how

	religion actually shows up in real life: rituals, attendance, leadership structures, cultural norms, and power dynamics. This is where you see both the best and worst outcomes: At its best, it builds strong communities, encourages compassion, and gives people resilience in hard times. At its worst, it can become rigid, exclusionary, or even harmful if authority is abused or beliefs are enforced without room for questioning.

Any specific achievements or aspects of recognition in your family:	My mom has a degree My cousin recieved a scholarship and I received a trophy for soloist.
Interests and hobbies:	Reading, singing and playing netball
What is your preferred holiday?	International
If you were offered an all-inclusive holiday, what would it be?	I'd start in Tokyo, exploring the contrast between ultra-modern city life and traditional temples. Then I'd head to Kyoto for the quieter side—shrines, gardens, and old streets. After that, a few days soaking in hot springs near Mount Fuji would be perfect.
Which interesting places have you visited?	Gold reef city
What are your feelings on animal welfare?	At a basic level, most ethical frameworks agree on one thing—animals can suffer, so their suffering should be minimized. That applies whether we're talking about pets, wildlife, or animals used in farming and research. Animals should have access to food, water, shelter, and proper care. They should be free from unnecessary pain, fear, and distress. Their natural behaviors should be respected as much as possible.

Please advise any specific donation criteria other than those mentioned:	No
All information provided is correct and pictures are all of me. I agree to keep baby2mom updated with the donor program (screening,	Yes blood tests, scans, egg retrieval). I will keep baby2mom updated regarding my availability and regarding egg donation pregnancies achieved. I consent to participate in the baby2mom egg donor program and participate as required and understand the concept of anonymous egg donation and claim no further rights over any child(ren) conceived of egg donation. I agree that I will be prescribed medication to potentially synchronize my menstrual cycle with that of the recipients and will be given hormones in a controlled environment by professional fertility specialists to stimulate donor egg development. I agree to find more information pertaining to egg donation on the baby2mom egg donor site or ask if I have any further questions about being an egg donor. I agree to participate as required as people often travel from international destinations to participate in a South African egg donation program and have incurred considerable financial and emotional costs:
