Behavioural Traits

What is most important in life to you?	What's most important in life to me is living with love, purpose, and integrity. I value meaningful connections, staying true to myself, and being kind, even when no one's watching. I believe in the power of compassion, and I try to live in a way that brings peace to others and to myself. At the end of the day, it's the simple things; love, family, and inner growth that matter most to me.
If you had unlimited resources and could save one thing on earth what would it be?	If I had unlimited resources, I would save and protect animals, especially those that are vulnerable, neglected, or endangered. They can't speak for themselves, yet they feel deeply and love unconditionally. I'd create safe sanctuaries, fund rescue efforts, and ensure every animal is treated with the care, respect, and love they deserve. Animals have always had a special place in my heart; and I believe how we treat them says a lot about our humanity.
What are your views on religion and spirituality, and practiced religion?	I believe that faith and spirituality are deeply personal, and I have a lot of respect for different beliefs and how people choose to connect with something greater than themselves. Personally, I lean more toward spirituality, I believe in a higher power, in divine timing, and in the idea that everything happens for a reason. I find comfort in prayer, gratitude, and trusting that God guides us, even when we don't have all the answers.

Childhood religion:	Christianity
Any specific achievements or aspects of recognition in your family:	Not exactly, no.
Interests and hobbies:	My interests and hobbies are a mix of things that bring me peace, joy, and growth. I love spending time with animals, they've always had a special place in my heart and being around them makes me feel calm and happy. I also enjoy journaling and self-reflection, especially when I'm exploring my thoughts or working through emotions.  I'm very curious about human behaviour and mental health, so I often read or watch content related to psychology and personal development. Recently, I've also started working on my fitness and learning how to swim, something I'm really proud of. I enjoy listening to music, spending time in nature, and having meaningful conversations that leave me feeling uplifted and inspired.
What is your preferred holiday?	Beach
If you were offered an all-inclusive holiday, what would it be?	If I were offered an all-inclusive holiday, I'd love something peaceful and nature-filled, like a tropical island or a quiet beach resort.  Somewhere with clear blue water, soft sand, and lots of time to relax, reflect, and enjoy simple joys. I'd love the chance to disconnect from the noise of everyday life and reconnect with myself, nature, and the beauty around me.  It would also be meaningful to experience local culture, try new food, maybe visit an animal sanctuary, and just soak in every moment.  Whether I'm exploring or simply resting with a good view, I'd want the holiday to feel refreshing, healing, and full of heart.

Which interesting places have you visited?	I haven't travelled far yet, but I've been lucky to experience some beautiful places close to home. I enjoy visiting nature reserves, beaches, and peaceful spots where I can just breathe and connect with the world around me. Being in nature, whether it's by the ocean or somewhere quiet and green, always feels special to me.  One of the most meaningful things for me is the feeling a place gives, not how far away it is. I find beauty in simplicity, and even a short trip with the right people or the right energy can feel unforgettable. I do hope to travel more in the future and explore places that inspire growth, peace, and new perspectives.
What are your feelings on animal welfare?	Animal welfare is something I care about deeply. I've loved animals for as long as I can remember, they've always brought me peace, comfort, and a sense of connection. I believe animals deserve to be treated with kindness, respect, and dignity, just like people. It breaks my heart to see any form of neglect or cruelty, especially because animals can't speak for themselves.
	I feel strongly about protecting and caring for them, whether it's pets, wildlife, or farm animals. They are sentient beings that feel pain, love, and fear and I believe it's our responsibility as humans to be their voice and to ensure they're treated with compassion and care.
Strength and weaknesses:	Strengths – empathy, communication, emotional intelligence, active listening, adaptability, compassion, patience, problem-solving, intuition, resilience.  Weaknesses – overthinking, being too self-critical at times, difficulty asking for help, perfectionism, taking on too much at once.
What do others generally think of you?	People often describe me as warm, kindhearted, and easy to talk to. I've been told that I have a calming presence and that I make others feel safe, understood, and valued, which means a lot to me. I'm also seen as emotionally mature, respectful, and thoughtful, especially in how I handle conversations or support those around me.
	Many people say I'm a good listener, dependable, and someone who carries quiet strength. I think what stands out most is my genuine care for others, whether it's family, friends, or even strangers. I don't try to be perfect, but I do try to always be real and lead with love.
