| Why do you want to be an egg donor and if you had a message for your recipient what would it be? | Currently, I don't think I will ever want children of my own and until I change my mind, if such a time ever comes, I'd like to help those who can't have children of their own.  |
| How do you best describe yourself?   | I am an optimistic person who always tries to maintain a positive outlook on life. I am resilient and well-spoken, with an artistic, creative, and innovative nature. I enjoy finding solutions to problems and would describe myself as a thoughtful problem solver. I have a deep love for nature, animals, and everything in between. I consider myself a person of integrity who values honesty, kindness, and strong moral principles. I believe in treating others with compassion, even when there is nothing to gain in return. In fact, I think those who are unkind often need kindness the most. I value close friendships and long-term connections, and I always try to do the right thing, even when no one is watching. I am adaptable and open-minded, and I believe that learning never truly ends. I enjoy new challenges and take pride in doing well at whatever I commit to. My interests are broad, and I have a genuine appreciation for good food, comedy, architecture, and wine. I enjoy sports, even though I am not especially athletic. In my free time, I love reading literature, crocheting, gardening, going for walks, visiting museums, and doing arts and crafts. I enjoy working with my hands and have built bookshelves from scratch. I also play the djembe drum and used to sing in a choir. I find language fascinating and often learn new ones just for fun. I speak six languages and am currently learning a seventh. I do not see myself as perfect or better than anyone else, but I believe I am a kind-hearted person who always tries to do good. Over the past few years, I have spent a lot of time involved in charity work, which has helped |
