Other personal information:	Religion: I am a Christian, I believe in God, the Son and the Holy Ghost Nationality: South African Blood Group: A+ I would describe myself as a peaceful, loving and family-orientated person. At 32, I feel that I have grown tremendously from the person I was in my early twenties. Life has taught me a lot about patience, strength, love and appreciating the simple things.

My family is the most important part of my life, and I am happiest spending time with them and creating memories together. I enjoy a peaceful life, being at home with the people I love, and appreciating the little moments that often mean the most.

I am still a strong and determined person who works hard for the things that are important to me, but I think motherhood and life experience have also made me softer, more patient and understanding. I have a big heart, especially when it comes to my family and animals, and I care deeply about the people who are close to me.

Overall, I would describe myself as someone who values love, family, stability and happiness, and who tries to enjoy and appreciate the life I have built.

Smoker: 5 - 10 per day

Reason for Donating:

Becoming a mother to my two children has given me an even deeper understanding of how special the opportunity to have a child can be. I know the love, joy and sense of purpose that my children have brought into my life, and it would mean so much to me to help someone else have the opportunity to experience that too.

I first considered egg donation many years ago, before I had children of my own. Back then, I believed that life does not always deal everyone the same hand and that there are people who would make wonderful parents who simply need a little help to get there. Now, after becoming a mother myself, I believe that even more strongly. To my recipient: I hope that my donation can play a small part in making your dream of becoming a parent a reality. I wish you all the love, happiness and beautiful moments that come with building a family. ??
