I believe everyone should be free to express their beliefs as they are without judgment. To me what matters most is that people are kind and true to themselves whatever they believe in. Nationality: South African Blood Group: Unknown I'm currently a computer science student so I love problem-solving and always learning something new but there's a lot more to me than that. Reason for Donating: I've been fortunate to have people in my life who wanted to be parents and I've seen firsthand how much love is waiting on the other side of that dream sometimes it just needs a little help getting there. Behavioural Traits

What is most important in life to you?	My inspiration in life comes from growth. Seeing how far I've come and knowing there's always more to learn and become. My life goal is to keep growing both personally and professionally while using what I learn to make a real difference whether that's through technology or simply the way I treat people around me. If I had to name the most important thing in life to me it would be connection. The relationships we build and the impact we leave on others. At the end of the day I believe a meaningful life is measured not by what we achieve alone but by who we help and uplift along the way.
If you had unlimited resources and could save one thing on earth what would it be?	If I had unlimited resources and could save one thing on earth it would be nature. Protecting our forests oceans and wildlife because everything else we care about depends on the health of this planet. Nature has always grounded me and I believe if we lose it we lose the foundation that sustains every form of life including our own.
What are your views on religion and spirituality, and practiced religion?	I have nothing against religion or spirituality and I fully respect that people practice in different ways. I believe everyone should be free to express their beliefs as they are without judgment. It is not something that plays a major role in my day to day life but I hold a lot of respect for how much meaning and comfort it brings to others. To me what matters most is that people are kind and true to themselves whatever they believe in.

Which interesting places have you visited?	I have travelled to botswana and most provinces in South Africa.
What are your feelings on animal welfare?	I care deeply about animal welfare. Animals deserve to be treated with kindness compassion and respect since they cannot advocate for themselves. I believe in protecting their wellbeing whether that means supporting ethical treatment in everyday life or simply being mindful of the impact our choices have on them. Nature and wildlife matter a lot to me so their welfare feels like a natural extension of that care.
Strength and weaknesses:	Strengths - cooking, leadership, staying focused and organized, problem-solving, photography, a love for fitness and staying active, and a genuine care for animals Weaknesses - public speaking in front of large groups, sometimes being overly self-critical, and taking on too much at once because I care about doing things well
What do others generally think of you?	Others generally describe me as caring, warm, and easy to talk to. People often say I have a way of making them feel good about themselves, since I try to look for the good in every person and always hope for the best in them.
