Behavioural Traits

What is most important in life to you?	Having my own family.
If you had unlimited resources and could save one thing on earth what would it be?	If I had unlimited resources, I would focus on saving and strengthening mental health care across the world. So many people suffer silently, and mental health is often overlooked or underfunded, especially in vulnerable communities. By making mental health services accessible, affordable, and de-stigmatized, we could help people heal from within, build stronger families, and create more compassionate societies. When people feel seen, safe, and supported, everything else begins to change for the better.
What are your views on religion and spirituality, and practiced religion?	I am Christian and I think as long as we respect and don't judge others for their chosen religious or spiritual ways, we can live peacefully.

What are your feelings on animal welfare?	I care deeply about animal welfare. I believe animals deserve to be treated with kindness, respect, and dignity — whether they're pets, farm animals, or wildlife. They feel pain, form bonds, and bring so much value to our lives. I support efforts that promote humane treatment, protect endangered species, and encourage responsible pet ownership. I also believe in educating people about how our choices affect animals, because small actions — like adopting instead of buying pets or supporting cruelty-free products — can make a big difference.
Strength and weaknesses:	Strengths - cleanliness, emotional intelligence, empathy and loyalty. Weaknesses -public speaking, perfectionism, struggling to ask for help, overcommitting
